Identify & Prevent Project Upsets

We assure the awarded General Contractor's approach to quality is aligned with your expectations.

Everyone is excited at the thought of a new project and all the possibilities of growth it can bring, but often times things don't go as planned because the proper documentation isn't submitted, or the expectations aren't delivered in a manner that the general contractor understands. This can lead to a delay that will inevitably effect your cost and project deadline.

Allow our experienced consultants to alleviate this headache.

We will schedule a meeting to better understand the job scope, review the project documents, as well as any additional engineering specifications, so that we may evaluate them against your contractors procedures to help identify any potential issues upfront before they can impact planning, production deadlines, and overall costs.

Project Surveillance

Keeping an eye on your investment

Agreeing on the terms of fabrication or construction and the actual erection of the project can sometimes be two different things. We frequently find the terms agreed on in the meeting room, aren't usually related to field personnel and those requirements tend to get lost in the production schedule.

Retaining an experienced Third Party Inspector looking out for the best interest of the project can prove to be vital. We want to help provide assurance that your contractor is both on schedule and delivering a quality product you will be excited about. We do this by:

- Being Readily Available to Witness Agreed Upon Hold Points
- Identifying Production Bottlenecks
- Identifying Nonconformance Items and Recommending a Resolution
- Obtaining Clarifications of Potential Issues Before They Cause Delays
- Keeping You Updated With Either Daily or Weekly Reports

SERVICES OFFERED:

- REVIEW OF VENDOR PROCEDURES
- REVIEW OF VENDOR QUALIFICATIONS
- VERIFICATION OF CODE COMPLIANCE
- VENDOR SURVEILLANCE
- THIRD PARTY INSPECTOR STAFFING
- NDE CONSULTATION
- DEVELOPMENT OF INSPECTION PROCEDURES

THIRD PARTY CERTIFIED INSPECTOR STAFFING SERVICES

At Refined we believe it's our diversity of subject matter experts that separates us from the competition. Our most novice of Inspectors have at least 10 years of practical hands on experience and are familiar with Quality Management Systems (QMS), in-service inspections management systems (meridium, etc.) as well as the various construction codes.(i.e. ASME, AWS, API, etc.)

So, whether you're in need of guidance from an API Inspector to evaluate your assets and provide recommendations, seeking an AWS Certified Welding Inspector to provide inspections and approve welding procedures, or maybe your in need of an ASNT Level III to develop an inspection technique for a proprietary component, we are here to help.

GAP ANALYSIS OF EXISTING NDE SYSTEMS

Allow us to assess if your NDE Program is operating at its fullest potential.

With the construction codes constantly being revised, documentation is essential. Unfortunately personnel are often spread thin and revisions to procedures are left to the wayside.

Our experts will review or revise your existing procedures and forms to assure they meet the current requirements. Additionally, we will discuss some potential reduction in operating costs by making you aware of available alternative NDE methods that will give you the same or better results.

"Committed To The Education & Growth of Inspectors"

NDE Vendor Auditing and Surveillance

You may be out sourcing all your NDE Operations and need assurance that your vendor is conducting the inspections properly. After all, you are depend on the information you are given in order to determine whether you need to repair or replace a component. If the examination or interpretation thereof isn't conducted properly it could have a dramatic effect on your project deadline. Allow us to reinforce the confidence that you have in your vendor by performing an audit to ensure you are getting the quality service you paid for.

At Refined, we understand every second is important.

It is this understanding, that separates Refined Inspection Services from our competitors. We pride ourselves in providing prompt and accurate solutions.
